Ancient Races: Talocan

Apart from the major human societies of today there are remnants of older races to be found in New Eden. The Sleepers, Takmahl, Talocan, and Yan Jung were human descendants, too. They populated the Cluster thousands of years ago but have long since vanished. The relics they left behind can still be explored today.

Expedition Highlights

Introduction. This expedition is part of our Ancient Races series. It focuses on just the site associated with ancient Talocan. The other TripTiks in this series can be found here.

The Talocan were one of the four known ancient space faring races of New Eden. They were, judging from the remains of Talocan technology found in the archaeological record, masters of Spatial Manipulation and Hypereuclidean Mathematics.

Talocan relics can be found in the Okkelen constellation within the Caldari State, especially at an infested excavation site near Devil's Dig Site in the Otitoh system. To reach a nearby ancient temple an one-time Ancient Ciphering Totem is needed, which can be found at the excavation site.

Otitoh. Warp to Devil's Dig Site beacon, take gate to Infested Excavation Site. More info here.

Our Expedition TripTiks are published as a service to New Eden and are intended to encourage capsuleers to visit and learn more about interesting destinations in the Cluster.
